Introducing the United States Mint 1999 Uncirculated Coin Set® — featuring the first new circulating quarters since 1976.

Anouncing a historic introduction — 50 State Quarters™. This is the very first offering of Uncirculated Sets that includes these new coins.

1999 is just the beginning.

This year we are embarking on a historic program in which we will mint a new quarter to honor every state in the Union. Five new quarters will be introduced each year. And the program will last for 10 years, concluding in the year 2008. Order now and you'll be able to collect the entire series. Best of all, you'll actually receive some coins months before they're introduced into circulation.

For over 50 years, numismatists have been eagerly adding these splendid Uncirculated Sets to their personal collections. The coins in the set have never been in anyone's pocket, purse or cash register. Since they have never circulated, you'll only see sharp, mint-condition images.

facility — produced from the same blanks used to strike Lincoln Cents. These symbols of quality add depth and drama to your collection. Of course, the 1999 Uncirculated Set comes with its own Specification Folder from the United States Mint.

The Philadelphia and Denver Mints.

A 1792 Act of Congress provided for a national coinage system and the establishment of a United States Mint in Philadelphia. Today, this Mint has the capacity to produce 1.8 million coins an hour, 44 million coins per day and over 10 billion coins every year. The Denver Mint was established on April 21, 1862, by an Act of Congress. It manufactures various circulating and commemorative coins, along with the Uncirculated Coin Sets. Today, this Mint produces more than 10 billion coins annually.

Exclusively from the United States Mint.

These rich reflections of our nation's heritage come directly from coining presses at the U.S. Mint's Philadelphia and Denver facilities. That means you'll receive one complete series from each location — 18 coins in all. Each distinct nine-coin series will include one quarter from each state honored this year, as well as the Lincoln Cent, Jefferson Nickel, Roosevelt Dime, and Kennedy Half-Dollar. Plus, you'll receive an emblematic Mint mark piece from each

Give a treasured gift.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY
UNITED STATES MINT
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20220

Dear Customer:

This year the United States Mint launches a momentous coin program to honor each state with its own quarter. And while that news is exciting in its own right, I'm more excited to offer you an opportunity to own all the coins being produced in 1999--months before some enter circulation--in the 1999 United States Mint Uncirculated Coin Set®.

As a serious collector, you've heard the facts of this extraordinary 50 State Quarters™ Program--five new quarters each year for a decade, each American state honored with its own reverse, coins issued in the sequence states ratified the Constitution or joined the Union. You've recognized this program's significance as the longest procession of design changes in the history of U.S. coinage. Now you can own the first five of the most anticipated coins in numismatics.

A remarkable century of American numismatics closes with the 1999 United States Mint Uncirculated Coin Set from the Philadelphia and Denver Mints. It includes two 50 State Quarters from each state honored this year, plus two Lincoln Cents, Jefferson Nickels, Roosevelt Dimes, and Kennedy Half-Dollars. Each 18-coin set includes Mint mark pieces produced from blanks used to strike Lincoln Cents. Mylar® packaging keeps your coins pristine, and the set includes a specification folder from the Mint.

A decade of new coin designs begins with the first of the 50 State Quarters, struck to world-class standards you--and we--demand. The 1999 quarter designs depict:

Delaware: Caesar Rodney who, despite illness, rode to break a tie among Delaware's delegates and vote for the Declaration of Independence.

Pennsylvania: The state motto and "Commonwealth," the statue atop the Pennsylvania Capitol.

New Jersey: George Washington crossing the Delaware River to defeat the British at Trenton.

Georgia: An outline of Georgia with a peach and border of oak sprigs, alongside the state motto, "Wisdom, Justice, Moderation."

Connecticut: "The Charter Oak," where patriots hid the colonial government charter from British authorities in 1687.

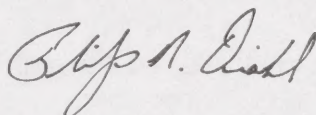

The 1999 United States Mint Uncirculated Coin Set is a limited-edition product--estimated production is just 1.5 million sets. Because it will be popular, we must limit orders to three sets per household. For the first time, you can order on-line at www.usmint.gov as well as by mail or phone at 1-800-USA-MINT. View our website to find facts and information about upcoming products from the United States Mint, including our colorful collector's map.

New this year, the Official United States Mint 50 State Quarters Collector's Map is a unique and informative way to showcase your complete 10-year series of circulating 50 State Quarters and a great way to teach youngsters the geography of our Nation. A patented push-fit retainer holds each state's quarter while a protective slip case keeps your map in perfect condition.

Also new for 1999--United States Mint Official Commemorative Coin Covers. Each one incorporates first day of mintage quarters from Denver and Philadelphia. Colorful envelopes bear cancellation marks from each state's capital dated the day each is released to the Federal Reserve Bank. These are limited-edition items of only 200,000 each.

Now is an excellent time to begin collecting the entire ten years of Uncirculated Sets--featuring 50 State Quarters. You know there will be tremendous demand. So please order today!

Sincerely,
